Dear Mr. Ryan:

Thank you for taking the time to visit with me yesterday about internship opportunities at Environmental Industries. After our discussion, I was even more excited about the possibility of working with you this summer.

You mentioned that you would be adding some environmental assessments to the initial client intake meeting. My experience in the biochemistry courses and laboratories would be excellent preparation for the type of detailed, scientific analysis these would require. I believe I would truly enjoy this part of the environmental consulting field.

I look forward to hearing from you in a couple of weeks!

Sincerely,

Sara Smith
